Infusion of Carbon Dioxide into Blood for Cell Oxygenation

Increased Blood Circulation Treats Dark Circles, Stretch Marks & Cellulites

Carbon dioxide is an odorless, colorless gas. It is a waste product that your body makes when it is used for food energy. Your blood carries CO₂ to your lungs. When you exhale, you breathe out carbon dioxide.

Carboxy Therapy works by injecting tiny amounts of carbon dioxide gas into target areas. The increased presence of carbon dioxide signals to the brain that the area requires more oxygen to keep the cells alive. As a natural response, the body sends oxygenated red blood cells to the area before carrying the carbon dioxide away for expulsion through the lungs. This increase in the circulation of oxygenated blood works to boost the regenerative capability of skin cells and the production of collagen to give a healthy, radiant appearance to the area.

Carboxy Treatment without Needles

Patented RIOX MASK

RIOX Supplies Rich Oxygen to the Skin without Pain

Aging causes capillaries to become dormant, which reduces blood circulation. This deprives cells of oxygen which stops the cells' ability to regenerate.

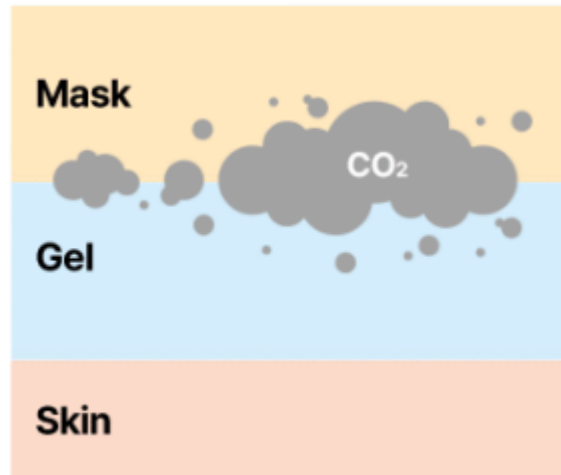

Injecting carbon dioxide makes your body think there is an oxygen deficit and it responds by increasing the blood flow. This leads to a surge of oxygen and nutrients in the treated area, which results in cell restoration.

- ✓ No injection
- ✓ Satisfying results for a lot less price
- ✓ A lot less pain
- ✓ Beginner-friendly
- ✓ Consistent effects even after repeated treatment
- ✓ Virtually no allergic reaction as CO2 naturally occurs within our bodies

CO₂ Generated By Contact Between Gel & Mask

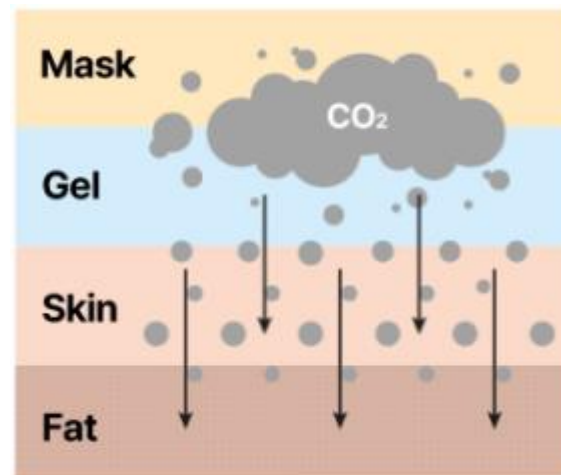

Permeated CO₂ induces Increased Supply of Oxygen to Cause Cellular Respiration

Mechanism of RIOX Mask

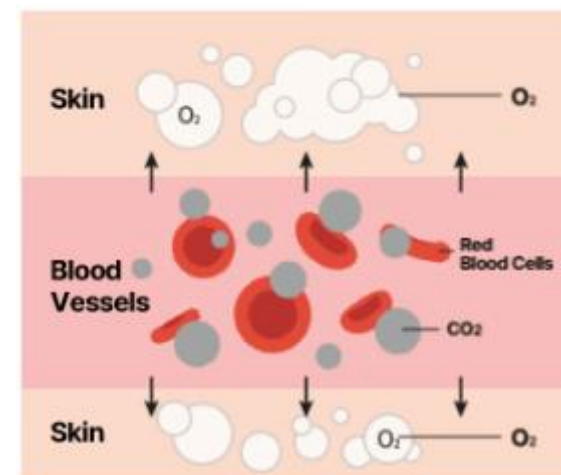

01

CO₂ is generated by the contact between the gel and the mask

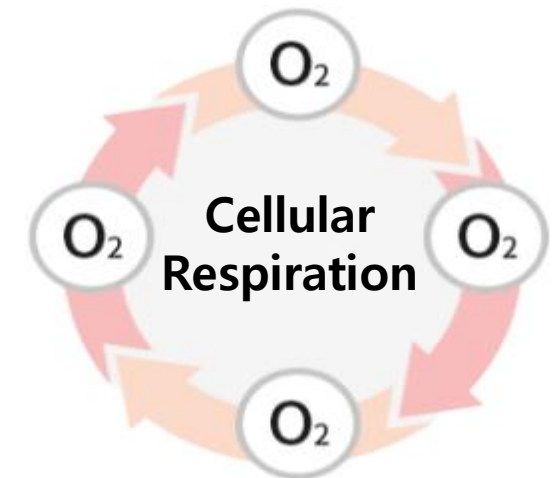

02

CO₂ is delivered deep into the dermis and subcutaneous fat

03

CO₂ decreases blood pH and provokes hemoglobin to release O₂

04

O₂ is supplied to cells that need it the most, boosting metabolism

Oxygenation Helps Smooth Out Cellulites for Firmer Skin

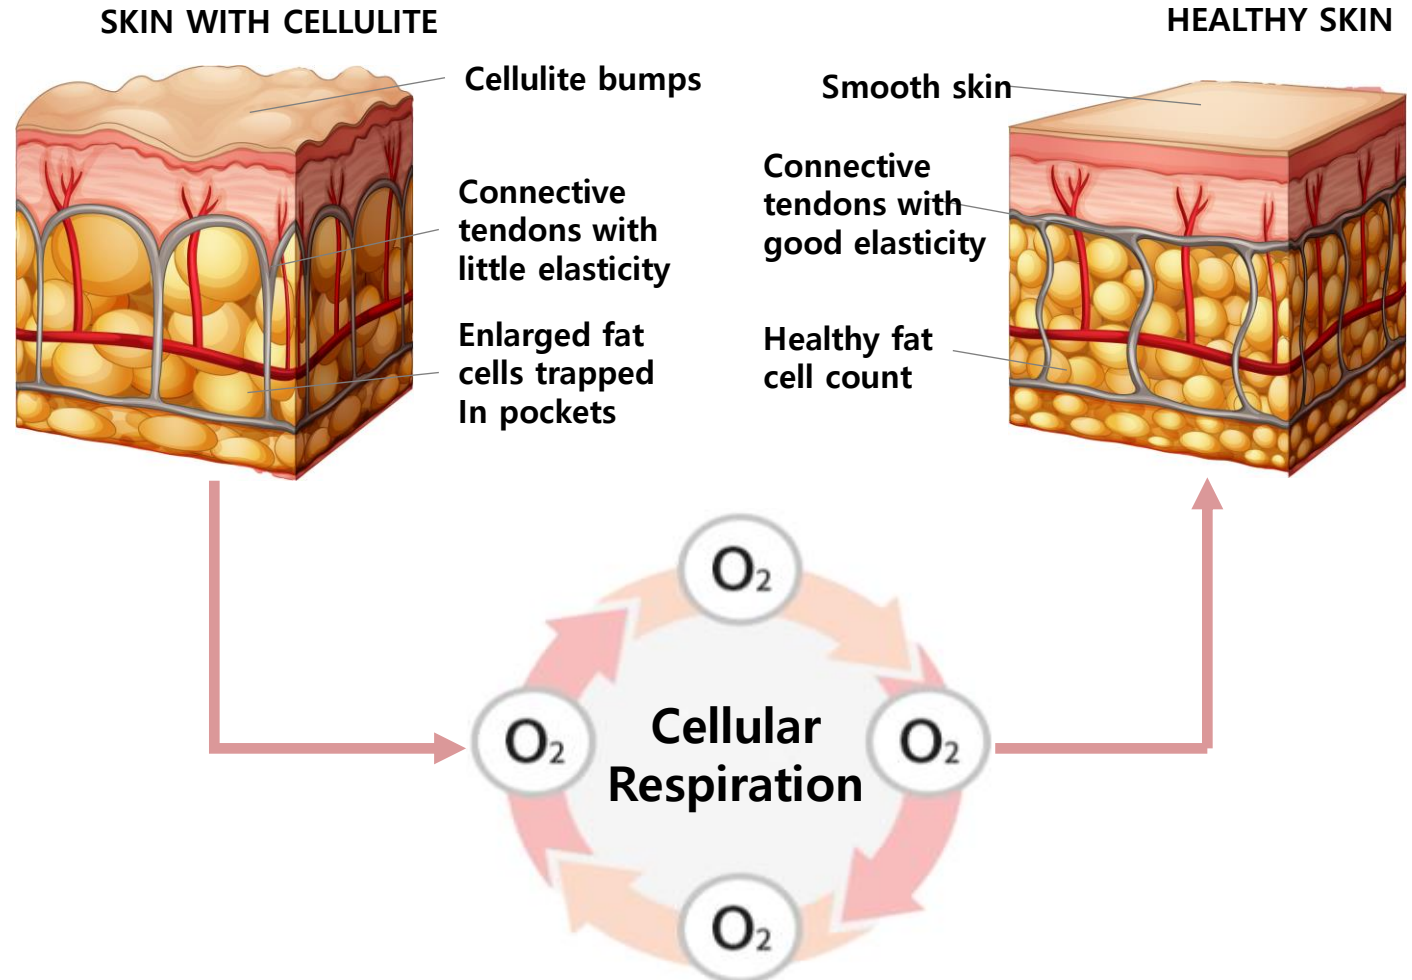

Enhanced Blood Circulation Improves Skin Complexion With More Radiance

The formation of cellulites is caused by poor circulation and liquid retention.

The walls of the blood vessels are formed by an elastic tissue that allows a fluid circulation of the blood. When these walls lose elasticity, the speed of the blood circulation is reduced. Instead of being excreted, excess fluids and waste products get pushed towards the adipocyte tissue where they attach to the fat cells causing cellulite and swelling. The transportation of oxygen and nutrients is also reduced causing the metabolism to slow down.

The process of oxygenating the area of concern allows for improved healing by nourishing of the skin, building and remodeling collagen and elastin in the area, which ultimately smooths out cellulite. This process leaves the skin tighter, brighter and smoother.

Best Carboxytherapy Mask in the Market

Designed to Provide the Greatest Convenience and Users' Experience

Comparison	Ease of Use	Hygiene	Versatility	Portability
	Amount of gel should be decided	Contamination possibility of gel for repeated use	Spa / Clinic	Bottle, Mask Sheet, Jar, Brush
	One syringe for one practice	Gel is exposed to the air for a short time	Spa / Clinic / Home	Syringe and Mask Sheet

5 Simple Steps to Professional Care at Home

Therapy Complete in Just 30 Minutes

Wash face & neck and wipe off moisture

Apply the carboxy gel
evenly on face and neck

Place mask sheet on carboxy
gel and gently press

Tap mask if CO2 bubble happens. After 20-30m
remove the mask

Gently wipe off gel and wash
face with moderate water

Maximize Effects with Repeated use

Unlike regular facial mask, RIOX is a detox product that is recommended for usage over 5 days.
Use an entire syringe per session, but do not use for over 40 minutes.

Tingling & Reddening are Normal Reactions of CO2

Gently Tap Down on the Mask After Initial Bubbling to Restimulate CO2 Reaction

Remarks

- Gel should be used with full amount of container so that the thicker layer of gel can generate enough CO2 has with mask.
- Make sure that the mask is in close contact with the skin, and keep it that way while CO2 is generated by tapping with fingers or hands.
- Whole CO2 is generated on skin, it sometimes feels a little sore or the skin gets reddish. But, it is an ordinary reaction.
- When blood circulation is enhanced, and soon it will be recovered in a few minutes after taking off the mask.
- Keep the product in a cool condition or refrigerated for the better result.

FAQ

Q: I get tingling sensation when I use CO2 mask pack.

A: No worries. Such tingling sensation is just a normal reaction by the skin caused by displacement reaction of CO2 and oxygen.

Q: I got reddening in the skin after using CO2 mask pack.

A: The reddening is a normal reaction caused by boosted blood circulation. For average user, the skin recovers normal tone within 30 minutes after cleansing the face.

Q: Will it increase the effect of CO2 mask pack if it is pressurized constantly?

A: CO2 reaction is maximized when the mask is evenly and tightly attached to the skin. The CO2 reaction will be reactivated when you gently press down the mask.

Q: Storage condition?

A: Store at room temperature (15C ~ 25C), keep away from sunlight. When cold-stored, much greater skin soothing and cooling effect is expected.

A gorgeous mask for carboxytherapy of the face, a procedure that my beautician recommends to all his clients and I am glad that it is now available to every woman at home, and not only in the salon.

Jennifer

I've just discovered RIOX Co2 Carbon Mask & having wonderful results. Clients are seeing & feeling results after just 1 treatment. Highly recommend them as a nice treatment to perform as well 10/10.

Christina

The best thing I've tried. Treats inflammation, evens out color. The skin is perfect. Personally, half of the tube is enough for me for the entire procedure.
